DETAILED ACTION

Priority

1. Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file.

Claim Objections

2. Claim 4 objected to because of the following informalities: A space is missing between "claim" and "1" in the first line. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

3. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.
4. Claims 3 and 12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.
5. A broad range or limitation together with a narrow range or limitation that falls within the broad range or limitation (in the same claim) is considered indefinite, since the resulting claim does not clearly set forth the metes and bounds of the patent protection desired. See MPEP § 2173.05(c). Note the explanation given by the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences in Ex parte Wu, 10 USPQ2d 2031, 2033 (Bd. Pat. App. & Inter. 1989), as to where broad language is followed by "such as" and then narrow language. The Board stated that this can render a claim indefinite by raising a question or doubt as to whether the feature introduced by such language is (a) merely exemplary of the remainder of the claim, and therefore not required, or (b) a required feature of the claims.

Note also, for example, the decisions of Ex parte Steigewald, 131 USPQ 74 (Bd. App. 1961); Ex parte Hall, 83 USPQ 38 (Bd. App. 1948); and Ex parte Hasche, 86 USPQ 481 (Bd. App. 1949). In the present instance, claims 3 and 12 recite the broad recitation 30° to 150°, and the claims also recite 70° to 90°, which is the narrower statement of the range/limitation.

6. With respect to claims 3, 6, 12, 15 the phrase "preferably" renders the claim indefinite because it is unclear whether the limitations following the phrase are part of the claimed invention. See MPEP § 2173.05(d).
7. With respect to claims 7 and 16 the phrase "such as" renders the claim indefinite because it is unclear whether the limitations following the phrase are part of the claimed invention. See MPEP § 2173.05(d).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

8. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Art Unit: 2856

9. Claims 10, 13, and 14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by U.S. Patent 4,735,778 (Maruyama et al.).
10. With respect to claim 10, Maruyama et al. disclose a well plate (1, Fig. 2) containing at least one well (2, Fig. 2) containing walls of wells (7, Fig. 2) and an opening for receiving a sample to be tested (5, Fig. 2), characterized in that the walls of the wells are inclined with respect to the plane defined by their opening of the well so that the cross section of the well is decreasing in the direction from the opening towards the bottom of the same (Fig. 2 and Col. 3, lines 6-12), so as to provide a geometry resulting in a convex or flat shape of the meniscus of the sample when in the well and that at least the surface of the well facing the sample comprises an antistatic material (Col. 4, lines 21-32).
11. With respect to claim 11, Fig. 2 illustrates a truncated cone shape.
12. With respect to claims 13 and 14, Maruyama et al. discloses parts of the plate coated in an antistatic material (Col. 4, lines 21-32).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

13. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Art Unit: 2856

14. The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:
  1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
  2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
  3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
  4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.
15. Claims are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over U.S. Patent 4,735,778 (Maruyama et al.).
16. With respect to claim 12, the Figures disclosed in Maruyama et al. do not appear to disclose the claimed ranges. However, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art as a matter of routine experimentation to achieve the claimed ranges.
17. With respect to claims 15 and 16, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to modify the system disclosed in Maruyama et al. by using a hydrophobic material that is conductive and dissipative because these types of materials are known in the art for an antistatic coating and the courts have held that using a material suitable for an intended purposed not to be inventive (See MPEP 2144.07).

Allowable Subject Matter

18. Claims 1, 2, 8, and 9 allowed.

Pertinent Prior Art

19. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
20. U.S. Patent 5,802,816 (Dietzel) discloses a system similar o Maruyama et al. only the figures appear contain truncated cones with top angles near 70°.
21. U.S. Patent 6,857,309 (Mansky) discloses a system for measuring the surface tension of sample in a plurality of wells where by applying a probe to the surface of the sample and making measurements of the surface tension forces acting against the probe.
